
MIE1517 Team Formation

Introduction

You will be working in teams of 3-4 to complete a project of your choice. Please take the time to select your team carefully. You should select team members who share a common interest in project topics. Approach your colleagues with your proposal and feedback so that you may find other individuals who are interested in undertaking a similar project. In addition to this, you should ensure that your schedules match up and that all team members can attend group working sessions.

What to do if you are having trouble finding a team

If you are having trouble finding team members, please reach out to the TAs or your instructor so that we may help you find a group before the deadline. If you are in this situation, please contact the teaching team well in advance so that we have time to reach out to other groups. You can use the discussion board on Piazza to find team members if you cannot find any during class hours.

Rubric

Team formation comprises 1% of your final grade. Please enroll in the same group with your team members on Quercus Group page by the due date specified on Quercus (the earlier the better). If you do not form your team by the deadline, a grade of 0% will be assigned to you for this component of the assessment.
